

A Message from our Executive Director

All of us here at Welcome America, Inc. are pleased, fulfilled, satisfied, gratified and, as my kids might say, "totally psyched" as we produced the premier celebration of America's birthday here in America's birthplace, the City of Philadelphia. With stars like Hall & Oates, Patti LaBelle, Chaka Khan, Branford Marsalis, Chante Moore and Kenny Lattimore, Bianca Ryan, the US Army Jazz Ambassadors and the Philadelphia Boys Choir Philly rocked! Add our televised parade and fireworks and across the board, we have met or exceeded expectations. Our research indicates that our attendance was way up. Other indices reveal that both Vendors and Sponsors benefited greatly from our marketing and public relations initiatives. Reports have been received showing we captured media attention from Boston to Washington DC and on to Europe and, yes, even Australia!

We're making history in this historical city that we love and you can become a part of that grand story. By becoming one of our proud sponsors, you can show your national and civic pride while doing the right thing for your business. We invite you to join with us.

Let us help you build the kind of community goodwill that money alone can't buy.

Sunoco Welcome America! 2008

The Sunoco Welcome America! Festival is a week-long celebration of freedom and free spirits — a highly visible series of free events across Philadelphia.

In 2008 we are continuing the Sunoco Welcome America! tradition of throwing a world-class Independence Day festival featuring music, entertainment, international cuisine, fireworks and a variety of other events that will bring the excitement right into the heart of neighborhoods across the city.

To do this, we need your help. We offer many different sponsorship opportunities — some in tandem with events and some celebration-wide and, most importantly, we can tailor benefits specifically to your needs and expectations.
